PRESERVING AND PROMOTING CULTURAL HERITAGE IN THE COPPER TRIANGLE.

At Resolution Copper, we know we get the best results by listening and partnering with the community. We pioneered a first-of-its kind Tribal Monitor program with the United States Forest Service to ensure tribal members can inform the decision-making process and collaborate to preserve and protect areas, resources, and sites of cultural importance. This includes setting aside more than 800 acres of land to permanently protect Apache Leap and other important land parcels and implementing a multi-year conservation program for the Emory oak.
